

Final Exam Review Sheet

Part One: Nonfiction Reading and Writing Portion

This is a subjective, 3-paragraph written response. You will need to know the basic guidelines for writing a research-based essay and have general knowledge of Romeo and Juliet to respond adequately to one of the questions.

1. Read a nonfiction article
2. Answer one of several short essay questions about Romeo and Juliet that includes textual evidence from the nonfiction article for support.

Skills to know:

- Parenthetical (in-text) citations
- How to write a thesis statement
- How to properly incorporate support for your argument (quote, paraphrase, and summary)

Part Two: Research Writing

These are objective questions about the process of research and the format required for this type of writing.

Terms to know:

- Thesis
- Parenthetical citation (in-text citation)
- Direct quotation
- Paraphrase
- Summary
- Plagiarism
- Works Cited page

Skills to know:

- Formatting citations
- Formatting direct quotations
- Placement of a thesis
- Avoiding plagiarism

Part Three: Literary Terms from Romeo and Juliet

These are objective questions that ask you to apply your knowledge of the terms listed below. You will be given short passages from the play to read, and you will need to identify the various literary devices at work.

Terms to know:

- Dramatic Irony
- Allusion
- Oxymoron
- Aside
- Pun
- Iambic Pentameter
- Symbol
- Analogy
- Monologue
- Foil
- Sonnet
- Soliloquy
- Simile
- Metaphor
- Couplet
- Foreshadowing
- Personification
- Prologue

Part Four: Romeo and Juliet Character/Quote Matching

This is an objective matching section that requires you to identify the speaker of a given quotation from the play. Understanding the role and relationships of the characters below will allow you to answer these questions:

Characters to know:

- Romeo
- Juliet
- Lord/Lady Montague
- Lord/Lady Capulet
- Benvolio
- Mercutio
- Tybalt
- Nurse
- Friar Laurence
- Prince
- Paris

Part Five: 3200 Grammar

This section covers Units 4-6 of 3200. Please review your notes and practice test as needed.